S. Jennett, O. Holmes : MCQs in Human Physiology before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised MCQs in Human Physiology:

Written for first and second year pre-clinical medical students and for part 1 postgraduates, the questions are separated into sections according to topics or systems. Within each section, questions are divided into two groups, one of basic questions, and the other of more advanced clinically-orientated questions. This book should be of interest to physiology and medical undergraduates and postgraduates at part 1, basic science level.
